

Bizou + Yukon

Home on the Ranch

Bizou + Yukon are brother and sister dogs of French heritage, but they were born and raised in Canada. They live in Summerlandia on The Ranch.

Bizou means “kiss” in French. When she was a puppy, she looked like a baby polar bear, and was very kissable.

Yukon received his name as he is very big and pure white like the vast snowy mountains in Northern Canada.

At The Ranch Bizou and Yukon patrol the land and protect sheep. This is their job. The sheep have an important job too. They are living lawn mowers and eat grass in the organic vineyards at The Ranch.

Bizou + Yukon also make sure that the good insects that live on The Ranch do their job by keeping the bad insects away.

WANTED

Yukon likes to sit on a hill alone at the top of the vineyard and watch for coyotes and bears.

Bizou likes to lounge in the sun and dream.

For entertainment, Bizou will chase butterflies overhead around and around in circles endlessly barking at them. She also likes to roll downhill and get really dizzy and dusty.

Yukon, the big brother dog by eight months, thinks this is a waste of time and not good behaviour.

Instead, Yukon likes to think about life's big questions. Why does the man human like to float on the pond? Where do the fish sleep at night? Why are the dogs that live with the humans so clean?

Like many brothers and sisters, Bizou + Yukon get into arguments from time to time. Often it is over food. Bizou thinks Yukon is eating more than his share. She likes to save some food for later.

Or they argue over who gets to ride in the front seat of the human machine when the sheep are being moved. But they always make up. They are best friends and they always look out for one another.

Each day the humans come to feed and brush Bizou + Yukon. Bizou loves to get her coat brushed. Yukon loves to have his belly rubbed. Neither of them like to have their teeth cleaned, but they realize it is important, so every day they let the humans do a good job brushing their teeth. When the teeth are clean, they get a bone to chew on. Sometimes they all go to Summerlandia to go to the doctor or for a hair cut.

Life at The Ranch is fun. Lots of humans come to work there every day, and everyone has a kind word and a pat and a hug for Bizou + Yukon. The humans also bring their pet dogs for a visit, but Bizou + Yukon think these dogs that live with humans are silly. The humans they like best are the ones that bring their dinner and treats.

Bizou + Yukon don't always behave. Sometimes they hide from the humans and watch the humans get worried. They got in trouble for playing hide-and-seek without asking, and learned they should not trick people like that. Now they just run and jump around and act silly and enjoy watching the humans laugh and try to catch them.

Despite the mischief Bizou + Yukon get into, the best part of their life on The Ranch is that they have each other by their side all the time - no matter what. And of course, sheep to snuggle up with at night.
